Each individual (sole trader) motor vehicle trader and each director/manager of a company motor vehicle trader must complete a statutory declaration. A manager is a company director (as listed on the Companies Office register) or any person occupying the position of chief executive (or equivalent) of that company.

When the statutory declaration is submitted a check will be made to determine if you have been banned as a director/manager or as a motor vehicle trader; whether you are an undischarged bankrupt; whether the company is in liquidation; and if the company is currently registered with the Companies Office. A criminal check will be made after registration. Therefore, the Registrar is relying on the correctness of the information you supply in your statutory declaration. If you have supplied a false statutory declaration, that is an offence under section 107 of the Motor Vehicle Sales Act 2003, which provides for a fine of up to NZ$50,000 (for an individual) and NZ$200,000 (for a company), and entering your name on the Banned Motor Vehicle Traders List.

Please note that checks will be carried out to identify that the information included in this statutory declaration is correct, including that the applicant is not disqualified from registration by reason of any grounds set out under Sections 24 or 25 of the Motor Vehicle Sales Act 2003. Please carefully read these sections of the Act before signing this declaration. You are required to keep a copy of any documents faxed for registration for a period of six years.
